MILUKOFF FORCED TO LEAVE RUSSIAN CABINET

Retirement of Great Leader Due to Radicals' Demand.

Affairs in New Republic in Chaotic Condition.

(Associated Press Cable.)

Petrograd, via London, May 16.—Paul N. Milukoff, Minister of Foreign Affairs, has resigned, leaving the Cabinet altogether.

M. Tereshtenko, Minister of Finance, has been appointed Foreign Minister, and M. F. Kerensky, previous Minister of Justice, has been named Minister of War and Marine.

RADICALS GAIN

By Associated Press Dispatch.

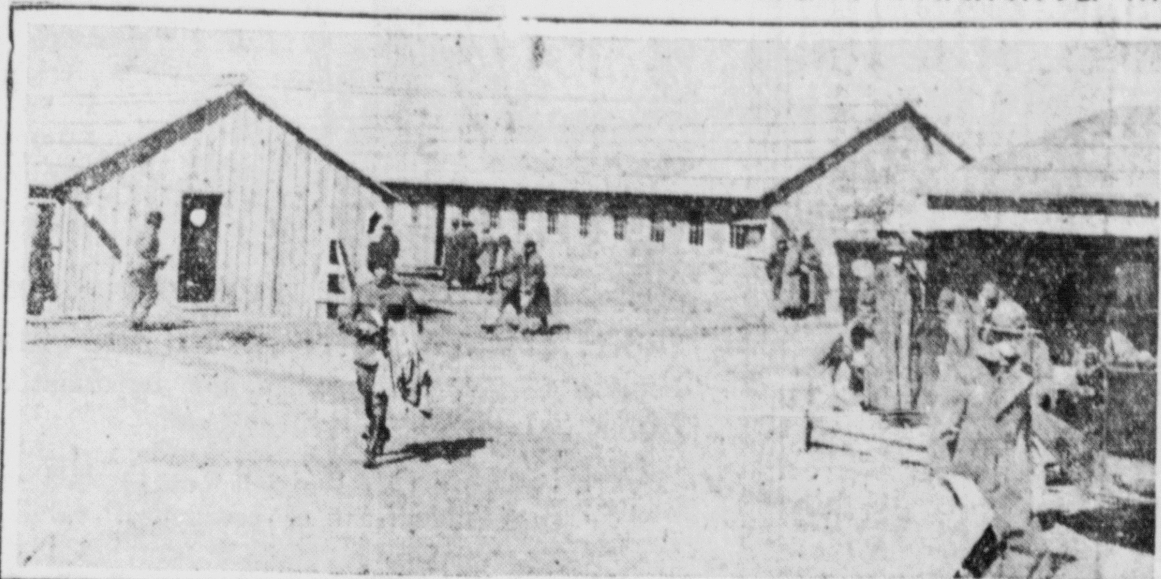

Washington, May 16.—Reorganization of the Russian Cabinet was regarded here as increasing the power of the Radicals and as looking forward to a greater degree of unity.

It is generally felt that the coming into power of the Radical Party is more desirable than a situation where the power was divided between Radicals and Moderates, with both practically powerless to act.

The resignation of Foreign Minister Milukoff is regarded as the price demanded by the Radicals for their active co-operation with the Government. Little is known here of the new Foreign Secretary. It is thought, however, that he is much less of a Moderate and much more of a Radical than his predecessor.

His assumption of office at this time is taken to show his complete sympathy with the policy of no annexation and no indemnity.

PLATTSBURG AND OTHER CAMPS BEGIN TRAINING MEN

PLATTSBURG BEGINS ITS WORK

Some idea of the conditions in which the men at the training camps, of preparing men for holding offices in the United States army. Just after the opening Plattsburg was inspected by Major General J. Franklin Hell, who said: "I am convinced that this is an ideal spot for the training of soldiers during the annual work, with the other training camps, of preparing men for holding offices in the United States army.

Just after the opening Plattsburg was inspected by Major General J. Franklin Hell, who said: "I am convinced that this is an ideal spot for the training of soldiers during the summer months. For five, or possibly six months of the year no better place could be selected, but because of the rigorous winters of this section I do not believe that it could be used to advantage for the training of large bodies of men during those months." There are 5,000 men in training at Plattsburg.

AMERICAN DESTROYERS ARE IN WAR ZONE

London, May 16.—(Associated Press Cable)—The Admiralty today announced the arrival of American destroyers in British waters.

RUSSIA, TOO, IS HANDED $100,000,000

Newest Republic Is Given Financial Aid By U. S.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, May 16.—The Government today made its first loan to Russia, $100,000,000, bringing the amount thus far advanced to the Allies up to $425,000,000.

The money loaned to Russia was made available for her purchase of supplies in this country, and was deposited to her credit in the Federal Reserve banks.

By that arrangement Russia will be enabled to draw against the amount, as money is needed to meet obligations here.

Today's loan marks the formal entry of Russia as a participant in the $3,000,000,000 credit to be placed at the disposal of the Allies.

WILL NOT ATTEND.

Copenhagen, via London, May 16.—(Associated Press Cable)—The Norwegian Workmen's Central Bureau has decided not to attend the Stockholm Socialist conference.

GARDNER WILL JOIN THE ARMY

Bay State Representative Quits Seat in Congress.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, May 16.—Representative Gardner of Massachusetts has resigned from Congress to enter the army.

Mr. Gardner has been one of the most active figures in the movement for military preparedness and was a member of the Ways and Means Committee.

He has been ordered to active duty as a reserve officer. He is the first member of either House to quit Congress for military service in the present war.

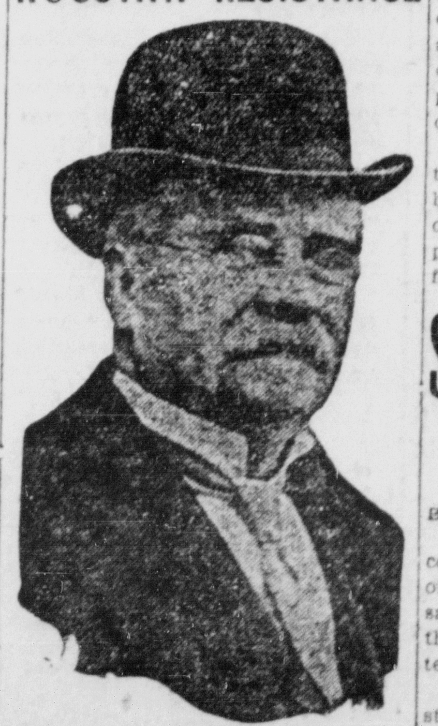

RANK OF COLONEL

Mr. Gardner holds the rank of colonel in the Officers' Reserve Corps, Adjutant General's Department, and will report next week to Major General Leonard Wood at Charleston, S. C.

He was taken in from the old Officers' Reserve Corps, which enables him to enter active service, although he is over the military age requirements.

GENERAL HUGH L. SCOTT WILL HELP REORGANIZE RUSSIAN RESISTANCE

CUT OUT THE CANS

Consumers Will Only Get "Perishables" in Cans Hereafter.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, May 16.—American consumers will have to deny themselves of canned beans and canned soups of all kinds for a time, under a decision of the War Committee today, which cuts off the supply of cans to packers of those foods.

The committee, comprising tin plate makers, can manufacturers and Government officials, holds that the shortage of tin makes it imperative that cans be supplied only to packers of perishables and foods absolutely necessary to the national existence.

The order will be effective for sixty days or perhaps longer, and will be put into operation over the vigorous protests of the bean and soup packers, who declare it means ruin for their business.

STATE CLOSES WELLS CASE

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Columbus, O., May 16.—The State completed its case today in the trial of Weldon H. Wells, the young Kansas City broker's clerk, charged with the murder of Mona Simon, in a hotel here last January.

Wells was expected to take the stand in his own behalf late today.

EXPLOSION KILLS SIX

Believed Dynamite Stored on Dock "Let Go."

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Sault Ste Marie, Michigan, May 16.—Six men were killed and several others seriously injured in an explosion this forenoon at the end of the Fort Brady pier. Most of the victims were laborers.

It is believed that dynamite stored under the dock exploded. The fish hatchery and adjoining buildings were badly damaged.

Soldiers stationed at Fort Brady were ordered to patrol the area swept by the explosion, and a military investigation was started.

No announcement has been made officially regarding the cause.

ARMY IS BUSY

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Sault Ste Marie, Michigan, May 16.—Army officers, attempting to compile a death list, said it was probable that one or more persons were blown to pieces. Other bodies may have been blown into St. Mary's river.

No trace has been found of several persons who were on the dock just before the explosion.

SWITZERLAND AT THE HAGUE

(Associated Press Cable.)

London, May 16.—Switzerland, according to a Central News dispatch from Zurich, has established a legation at the Hague and will transfer Dr. Paul Ritter, Minister to the United States, from Washington to the new post.

CAMP CONTEST NARROWS NOW TO FIVE CITIES

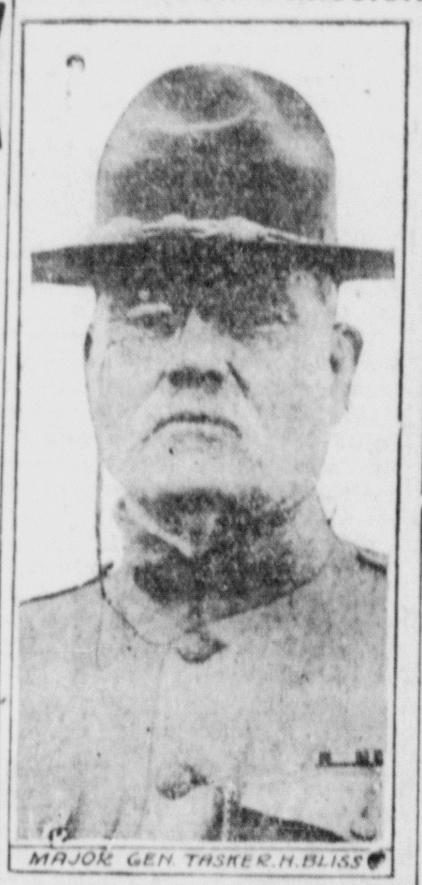

Washington C. H. Not Among Places Mentioned By the "Wise Ones."

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Cleveland, O., May 16.—The Cleveland Chamber of Commerce today appointed a committee of real estate men and military officers to report on all available sites near the city in an effort to bring the mobilization and training camp of the Sixteenth Division of the War Army of the United States to this city.

Information presented to the Chamber of Commerce narrows the possible selection to five cities—Cleveland, Cincinnati, Toledo, Columbus, and Wheeling, W. Va.

BLISS IN COMMAND WHILE SCOTT GOES ON RUSSIAN MISSION

MAJOR GEN. TARKER H. BLISS

When Major General Hugh L. Bliss, chief of staff of the United States army, goes to Russia as a member of the commission headed by Elihu Root his place as actual head of the army will be taken by Major General Tarker H. Bliss, who is assistant chief of staff. General Bliss has held his present rank since Nov. 20, 1915. Pershing and Liggett are the only two major generals below him on the list. Senior are Scott, Wood, Bell, Barry and Goethals.

WAR BUDGET CONSIDERED IN SECRECY

Senate Closes Doors While Important Measure Is Discussed.

Senator Smith Would Buy Freight Cars for Railroads.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, May 16.—When the Senate today took up the great $3,360,000,000 war budget, it closed the doors and discussed it privately, because many senators said it entailed discussion of confidential information on prosecuting the war. The House passed the bill openly.

Senator Martine, Democratic leader, assented to considering the bill in executive session, upon suggestion of Senator Weeks, Republican, of Massachusetts.

It was not decided whether the entire bill would be so debated, or merely sections relating to war problems. An amendment designed to relieve the freight car shortage was offered by Senator Smith of Georgia, proposing that of the appropriation for merchant ships, $100,000,000 be used to construct or acquire freight cars and permit their use by the railroads upon terms to be approved by the President.

PROGRESS BY BRITISH SLOWS UP

French Hold Fast Against Tremendous Attack.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

On the front in France, hard fighting has been confined to the Bullecourt sector and the region north of the Scarpe, in the Arras battle area, and to a strip about two and one-half miles in length on the western end of the Aisne front.

Dispatches from correspondents from the Bullecourt region report the British troops as having regained virtually the ground they had lost within the confines of the ruined village and to have established new posts west of Bullecourt.

As to the fighting north of the Scarpe, which the British Press Bureau reports as severe in character, there is nothing in the official account to give a clue to its definite import or the way it is trending.

A new German attack on the French lines was delivered along a four kilometre stretch in the region of the Laffaux Mill.

The French positions here were maintained in spite of repeated powerful assaults by the Crown Prince's troops.

ITALIANS GAIN

(Associated Press Cable)

Rome, via London, May 16.—The War Office announced today that as a result of the offensive begun yesterday the Italians thus far have captured 3,375 prisoners, a mountain battery and thirty machine guns.

ROOSEVELT WILL ACCEPT STATE ORDER

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Albany, N. Y., May 16.—At the conclusion of a two hours' conference today with Governor Whitman, Colonel Theodore Roosevelt announced that he would accept the Governor's offer of a major general's commission in the state service, if the Federal army bill were passed without the provision to permit him to go to Europe with an expeditionary force.

BRAZIL WILL ELECT A NEW PRESIDENT

Rio Janeiro, Brazil, May 16.—(Associated Press Cable)—Rodriguez Alves, former president of Brazil, is expected to be named a candidate for the presidency of the Republic and Delfin Moreira a candidate for vice president, at a convention to be held next month.

CUT IN NUMBER OF PASSENGER TRAINS IS BELIEVED NEAR

Unprecedented Demands on Railroads and Increase in Expenses Without Increase in Rates Expected to Reduce Service 50 Percent.

Unprecedented demands for freight service on the railroads, the new eight hour law, increased operating expenses and no increase in passenger fares are combining toward a sharp reduction in passenger service on a great many railroads, some of which touch this city, and, according to well founded reports, a reduction of 50 per cent is possible in the near future.

It is planned by virtually all railroads of the land to reduce the number of passenger trains wherever this is possible, and to increase the size of the passenger trains left in service in order to accommodate the traveling public on the fewer trains to be run.

In this manner it is hoped to better handle the freight business, leave thousands of coaches available for government use, and reduce the enormous expense entailed by the new eight hour law.

All competitive passenger service will go, as it is understood the government will demand it in order to give free movement to more important business, saving time and money. Excursions will be virtually unheard of, particularly the popular Sunday excursions.

Instead of short passenger trains, there will be a small number of larger passenger trains, that will get to their destination in due time, but not quite so quickly as heretofore.

A new schedule for the yard crews has been worked out, on the eight-hour program. Heretofore the men have been working on a ten hour basis.

An eight-hour schedule has made some changes in local way freight.

SHERIFF JONES HAS BUSY DAY LANDING PEOPLE IN PRISON

Wednesday was a busy day with Sheriff Jones who started out about nine o'clock Wednesday morning to land three persons in three different penal institutions.

Sheriff Jones left this city by automobile, having in his custody Constable "Rabbit" Smith, bound for the Penitentiary at Columbus, and also Clara Kelly, Fayette county's first woman to go to the State Reformatory for Women at Marysville.

The trip to Columbus and thence to Marysville was made by automobile and after the two prisoners had been safely landed in the institutions Sheriff Jones boarded the train for Mt. Vernon, where Wert Upthegrove was held for him on a charge of failure to provide.

Upthegrove was taken in tow and the Sheriff, armed with commitment papers, hied his man to the Xenia workhouse, where he will serve several months on the charge upon which he was apprehended.

ROOF IS BURNED FROM RESIDENCE

The residence of John Combs, on Gregg street east of Lewis street, was badly damaged by fire Tuesday evening, when sparks from a flue started a blaze in the roof.

Under the new rules laid down for the fire department, the motor truck cannot be taken to fires outside of the so-called fire zone, and it required quite a little time for the horses to make the run to the scene of the blaze.

It was necessary to lay 800 feet of hose, coupling to the hydrant at the East End church, and the fire had gotten a strong hold before a stream of water could be played upon it.

OTHER CITIES ARE BOOSTING SALARIES

Other cities in this part of Ohio are increasing the salaries of the police and firemen to meet the increased cost of living, and the rate of increase is about that planned in this city, $10 per month additional for each policeman and fireman.

Chillicothe, Lancaster and London are included in the towns making the increases.

Russia might make its czar a professor of law or a great fannal naturalist or something.

FIRST GAME AT NEW PARK NEXT SUNDAY

Local Team Will Open Season at New Park With Columbus Team as Opponents.

Great Contest Is Confidently Expected By Players and Fans Alike.

The baseball season will open in Washington next Sunday afternoon when the Athletics cross bats in the first game with the strong Smith Dry Cleaners of Columbus, the class of the Capital City amateurs.

The Athletics this year, reorganized and measurably strengthened under the management of Doyle, who will play the keystone sack permanently, give promise of bringing a splendid record to their admirers and adherents at the close of the season.

The team this year will present behind the bat, Towell, of Frankfort, who gave such conclusive demonstration, to local fans of his talents last year. Matthews, of Greenfield, will be his associate with the big mit, the shin pads and the mask. As a receiver of shoots and slants fans know his worth. Reno will do the hurling at the park Sunday afternoon and his good wing is well oiled for the job of placing his benders just outside of the danger zone of opposing batsmen.

At first Babe Adams will star again with Hagg, a promising youngster, ready to jump in when occasion demands.

Doyle, the manager, will look after second in a manner which only Doyle playing regularly in the line up, familiar with his team mates, can do.

Lewis at short, will cover vast acreage in a manner which will bring joy to the team's boosters and strike terror to the opposition curve swaters.

Prohruhofer, Groover and Abers will debate for the privilege of holding down the third corner sack.

Noon in left garden, Jones in center, while Whited, Uible, Morris and Teevens struggling hard for supremacy in the right garden, form a well balanced corps of outer gardeners, who can field, throw and hit.

All together the team is well balanced for defensive and offensive work and will doubtless give a splendid account of itself during the coming season.

Sunday's game will be called at 3:30 o'clock at the new park on Sycamore and Elm streets.

Thompson of Dayton, last year's reliable and efficient arbiter of play will again handle the indicator and settle all arguments.

A big attendance is expected out to see, what promises, from every angle to be, a real ball game, the new park a real well balanced ball team.

Two-thirty at the new park, Athletics vs. Dry Cleaners of Columbus.

O. S. U. GRADUATE ACCEPTS POSITION

Ellicott Jefferson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. F. Jefferson, of Bloomingburg, graduates in the civil engineering course at the O. S. U. next month and has taken the position of Assistant County Surveyor with County Surveyor Tom Grove. Young Jefferson came down from Columbus the first of the week and began his work Wednesday. He returns to the O. S. U. for the commencement season.

He ranked as one of the best students in the local High School from which he graduated two years ago; has done excellent work in the O. S. U. and comes to his new field with both equipment and ability.

JURY TO REPORT WHEN NOTIFIED

The petit jury for the May term of common pleas court was notified Wednesday not to appear for duty until further notice.

The jury was originally notified to appear for duty on Monday, May 21, but postponement of the court was announced by Judge Carpenter on Wednesday afternoon.

FULL WEEK IN THE GOOD HOPE SCHOOLS

This week is crowded full of interest in the Wayne Township centralized schools. Public school exhibits will be shown in the buildings at Cicero and Good Hope on Thursday and Friday, May 17 and 18.

The graduates of the class of 1917 will present the class exercises Friday afternoon at the Good Hope high school building, following a community dinner in the basement.

The commencement will be held Saturday night, the class address to be given by Prof. John Davison.

REPAIR CROSSINGS AT UNION STATION

A gang of workmen were busy making repairs of the B. & O. and D. T. & I. and C. H. & D. crossings at the Union Station Wednesday, strengthening the rails and placing new bolts in the rails as well as rearranging the fishplates and other parts of the crossings.

With the continual bump of long trains over the crossings it is necessary to give frequent attention to the rails to keep them in proper condition to prevent wrecks at that point.

BOUND OVER FOR CUTTING TO KILL

In Mayor Oster's court, Wednesday morning, Ira Porter, colored, entered a plea of not guilty, waived examination and was held to the court of common pleas on the charge of cutting with intent to kill Chas. Abrams, colored.

The bond of Porter was fixed at $200 which was furnished, and he was released.

The cutting affray, in which Abrams sustained wounds requiring 29 stitches to close, occurred Saturday night, growing out of an altercation between the two, and Porter is alleged to have wielded the knife on Abrams. Porter will claim self defense, it is under stood. He was represented by Attorney J. D. Post, while the prosecution was represented by Attorney Nye Gregg.

GRADING GROUNDS FOR TENNIS COURT

The work of grading the tennis court to be opened on the Central school grounds is under way, and within a short time the double court will be ready for use.

It is the plan of Superintendent McClain to make the court one of the most popular places in the city during the entire summer.

LIMITED USE OF MOTOR FIRE TRUCK DRAWS CRITICISM

The new rules recently established for the Washington Fire Department are causing widespread criticism as result of two fires where the horse drawn equipment was used instead of the motor driven fire truck.

Under the rules recently promulgated to the department by Mayor Oster and Service Safety Director Hillery, the motor truck cannot be moved out side of the business district, termed the "fire zone," unless extraordinary measures demand.

In connection with the complaints arising from the use of the motor truck under the new rules, the impression has gotten out that an ordinance was passed by council prohibiting the use of the truck except in the up-town district.

The Herald is in receipt of the following communication, dealing with the matter, from President of Council, C. W. SODDERS:

Editor The Herald.
I wish to say a word regarding the use of the motor fire truck. The idea has gotten abroad that council passed an ordinance prohibiting the truck from being used only in the limited "fire zone."

I would like to state to the public that such an ordinance was never passed by council, and as to a fire zone, beg to say that we haven't any.

The citizens of Washington bought and paid for the motor truck and I feel that every citizen should have the equal protection accorded by the motor truck.

The rules and directions of the fire department, prohibiting the use of the motor truck except up town, were laid down by Mayor Oster and S. S. Director Hillery.

All Washington citizens should be equally protected and should demand the use and protection to which they are entitled.

C. W. SODDERS,

Cincinnati, May 16.—The will of Senator J. B. Foraker, one of the shortest on record, was filed for probate here. The entire estate is left to his widow, Julia B. Foraker, and she is made executrix without bond. When the will was written in person by Senator Foraker twenty-seven years ago, his estate was valued at $750,000.

WAYSIDE INNS ARE DISAPPEARING

(Associated Press Cable)

London, May 16.—Government restrictions on the liquor trade are likely to result in the disappearance of hundreds of village inns and wayside "public houses" this summer. These houses have always relied mainly for support on the casual passerby, especially agricultural workers who used to pull up their teams, water the horses, and give themselves a rest and a drink at the comfortable bar of the roadside inn. But nowadays the restriction of hours of sale has made it impossible for the passerby to obtain anything stronger than ginger ale except at lunch-time and the agricultural laborers are learning to pass the inn which have been used for generations as houses of call.

Some of the most picturesque wayside inns in England now take in only a few shillings weekly, and very few of them make enough to afford a living to the landlords, who have largely been forced to become farmers or to retire on their savings.

PRESCIENCE.

Who told the willow tree
 That spring had come again?
 How could she ever know?
 (So wild the winds that blow,
 So harsh the rain.)

The sycamore and oak,
 The beach, with years bent low,
 Still winter dark and drear,
 Have heard no signal clear;
 They do not know.

But since each willow with
 Its greening wand unfurls,
 The maples blossom deep
 And poplar catkins peep
 With cautious curls.

They find the sun is kind
 With hint of warmth to be;
 But what first word of cheer
 Around the pioneer,
 The willow tree?

SOCIALISTS WILL AID RUSS CHIEFS

(By American Press)

Petrograd, May 16.—The executive committee of the council of workmen's and soldiers' delegates, after discussing the internal situation in Russia, decided by 41 votes against 19 to favor the participation of representatives of Socialist parties in the provisional government.

Before voting in favor of the participation of the Socialists in the provisional government, representatives of the general staff visited the executive committee of the workmen's and soldiers' deputies and spoke most earnestly of the seriousness of the situation. According to their information, the speakers said, several army commanders purposed to follow the example of M. Guchkoff, minister of war and marine, and resign, owing to the impossibility of fulfilling their duty to the country under the present conditions.

The council of workmen's and soldiers' delegates issued an appeal to the Socialists of Germany and Austria to prevent their troops from being hurled against the western front in order to crush France and then dash on to Russia. The appeal says: "The democracy of revolutionary Russia appeals to the Socialists of neutral and belligerent countries not to allow the triumph of imperialism. May the cause of peace proclaimed by the Russian revolution be brought to a happy conclusion by the efforts of the international proletariat."

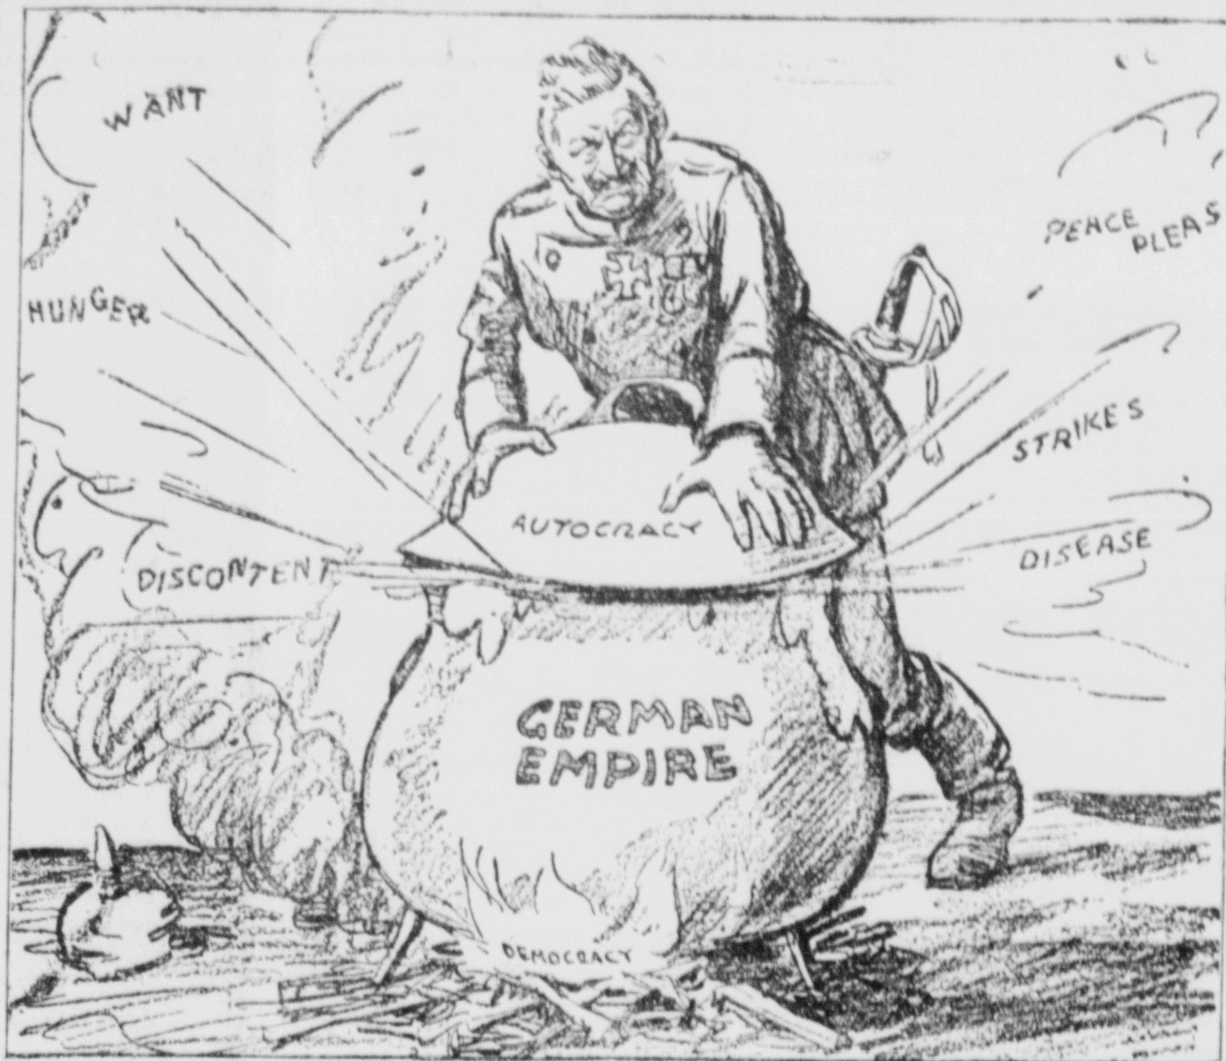

The success of President Wilson's recent programs lends support to the theory that those pickets in front of the White House are masquerades.

NOW EXPRESS COMPANIES ARE AFTER INCREASE

By Associated Press Dispatch.
 New York, May 16.—Rumors that the principal express companies were about to file with the Inter-State Commerce Commission an application for an increase in rates were met today by a statement from the executive office of the Adams Express Company that the rates of the companies were now being analyzed "in connection with the increased cost of conducting business."

WILL ANALYZE

The Adams, American and Wells Fargo Companies had taken the lead in the movement to have express rates analyzed in this connection. It was explained, and the Southern, Northern, Great Northern and Western companies are taking similar steps.

Recently it was asserted the business of some companies has been conducted with a deficit.

GIRL AVIATOR'S GREAT RECORD ON THE LINES

(Associated Press Cable)

Geneva, Switzerland, May 16.—A German girl, aviator, belonging to a rich family, whose fiancé was a member of the flying corps and was killed in France during an aerial raid last November, has taken up his work as an aviator and aerial scout.

Farulein L., who is 21 years of age, has the rank of lieutenant in the army, dresses like an officer, and only a few know her secret. She has been fighting in the air for four months and has had two escapes, being forced to land, but has not been wounded.

WELL KNOWN DRUGGIST CALLED BY DEATH

Just before noon Mr. Frank Christopher received word of the death of his brother, Mr. Harry Christopher, in Kalamazoo, Mich., at ten o'clock Wednesday morning.

Mr. Christopher was a well known druggist of this section of the state, for many years proprietor of the Christopher drug store of Greenfield. A short time ago he sold out his Greenfield store to go into the drug business in Wilmington and expected to move his family from Greenfield to Wilmington in the near future.

For about a year Mr. Christopher has been in failing health and several weeks ago his wife accompanied him to Kalamazoo, in the hope of benefiting his health. He leaves a widow and two sons, the oldest sixteen years of age.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Christopher were just leaving for their former home in North Lewisburg when the sad word was received. They went at once to Greenfield to the Christopher home.

Mrs. Christopher starts tonight with the body from Kalamazoo reaching Greenfield sometime Thursday.

H. S. STUDENTS IN SONG RECITAL

On Tuesday night in the Woodman's Hall, in Bloomingburg, twenty-five girls and boys of the Bloomingburg High School gave a public song recital that completely captivated a very large audience.

For several months Mrs. Maude Howland and Miss Lora Morris have had the students in training and the splendid work they did surprised and delighted the listeners. There were choruses by the girls and boys separately and mixed choruses, in which the excellent expression reflected most creditably upon the instructors.

Miss Lois Thomas added an entertaining reading to the program.

GOLD MINING IS NOT AFFECTED BY WORLD WAR

(Associated Press Cable)

Capetown, May 16.—The gold mining industry is almost the only one which has enjoyed freedom from interruption owing to the war. This is accounted for in a summary prepared by the Transvaal Chamber of Commerce as due to "the national importance and the essential nature of the industry both through the necessity of its products to the Imperial government and the fact that its discontinuance would mean a chaotic condition of affairs in South Africa."

Since the beginning of the war, South Africa has produced 100,000,000 pounds sterling in gold. Twenty per cent of the white employees have voluntarily gone on active service, and extra financial burdens imposed by the war on the gold mining industry are estimated at 2,000,000 pounds a year. Dividends last year were about 1,000,000 pounds less than in 1914, although the production was 4,000,000 pounds sterling greater.

NO PIGGIE IN BACK YARD SAY HEALTH OFFICIALS

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Columbus, O., May 16.—State health department officials have frowned upon the suggestion that every family keep a pig in its back yard, pointing out that such a practice would create a nuisance in almost every case.

The department has received many inquiries concerning the suggestion from local health officers and mayors and in reply to them, J. E. Bauman, secretary of the State Board of Health suggests that instead of every family keeping a pig, that communities go together and secure a small tract of ground in the outskirts of the town or village and make a contract with some scavenger to collect the garbage of the village and deliver it to the community hog pen.

"In this way," says Bauman, "they may help to solve the high cost of living and incidentally help to solve the garbage disposal problem of the community."

WOMAN IS LARGE SUBSCRIBER TO BRITISH WAR LOAN

London, May 16.—(Correspondent of Associated Press).—The largest woman subscriber to the war loan in England is Miss Emily Talbot, of Galmorgan. Miss Talbot, who is seventy-seven years old, is the daughter of C. R. M. Talbot, who sat in the House of Commons for sixty years and died in 1890 leaving a fortune estimated at 8,000,000 pounds to his daughter. Her land holdings of over 40,000 acres include several thousand acres of valuable coal deposits, and nearly the whole of Port Talbot and the Port Talbot railway and docks.

Miss Talbot's contribution to the war loan is estimated at 4,000,000 pounds. This is quite characteristic of the woman, who has been known to go to great lengths to avoid publicity in connection with her philanthropies. Her favorite device to avoid publicity is to contribute a comparatively small sum to a charity in her own name and then add two or three much larger donations anonymously. Thus, her open subscription to the war loan was for 80,000 pounds, although in roundabout ways it has become known that she is the holder of about fifty times that amount.

Miss Talbot, despite her age, keeps her hand on her own business affairs and her property has greatly increased in value during her twenty-seven years' stewardship. She has a London house on Cavendish Square, but spends a considerable part of her time in Wales.

Somebody may as well get ready to pin flags on the pacifists for Mr. Bryan now as militant as Col. Roosevelt, classifies them all as slackers. Pacifists who shut up shop as soon as there is any good fighting to do are the right sort.

One vaguely gathers that the Germans in Brazil and Argentina must be almost as tactful as those in the United States.

The Farmers' Work

These are the busy days in the rural districts—these are the days, at the close of which the plowmen and the corn planters, the men who operate the cutters and the drags and do the thousand and one other things that have been waiting to be done on the farm, "homeward wend their weary way."

The spring work has been delayed for an unusually long time this year by unfavorable weather conditions but Monday and Tuesday saw every available man and team at work afield.

Corn planting is being rushed with every ounce of force the farmers can command. Not only are the workers spurred on this season by the prospect of unheard of produce prices, it is not alone a question of profit enormous as those profits promise to be. There is back of every bit of force exerted the fine patriotic impulse of the American farmer who realizes that not only are the people of this nation depending upon him to feed them but that practically the whole world outside of Germany Austria and Turkey are expecting America to furnish a considerable part of their food stuff.

Then too the close of the war before another harvest is gathered may add the people of the nations composing the Entente Alliance to the millions already looking to the United States for food.

Never has the American farmer had more work to do at this time of the year, never has he been longer postponed and never has he got in more telling blows than he is now.

FLUSHING CASE IS DECIDED IN FAVOR OF CITY

Court of Appeals Sustains Lower Court in Case of City Against Hillery—Another Injunction Suit Remains to Be Heard—No Prospect of Clean Streets.

In an oral decision handed down by Judge A. H. Kunkle, and concurred in by Judges Ferneding and Allread, in the Court of Appeals, the celebrated flushing case of The City of Washington against James Hillery, Safety Service Director et al., the judgment of the lower court was sustained and the temporary injunction against James Hillery made permanent.

The case was heard before the Appeals Court Tuesday afternoon, and

TRUTH IS STRONGER THAN FICTION

We might write any old stuff about our service, making false claims; but that would be fiction. It might get your bundle once, but only once. To get the truth just send your bundle to satisfy your curiosity, not because of anything we claim. That brings the truth.

LARRIMER

the decision handed down shortly thereafter.

The judgment of the Common Pleas Court, upheld by the Court of Appeals was that as Safety-Service Director, James Hillery had only one vote and could not vote twice as member of the Board of Control in awarding a contract for flushing and cleaning the streets of the city of Washington for a period of five years.

The city was represented by Solicitor Gregg, Nye Gregg, A. C. Patton, J. D. Post, C. A. Reid and F. A. Chaffin, while the defendants were represented by John Logan and Joseph Hidy.

But the work of letting the contract and proceeding with the flushing of the streets is still tied up in definitely by another injunction case recently filed by the city against Hillery as result of a "pretended" letting of the contract by Mayor Oester and S. S. Director Hillery, at a reduction of $15000 from the original bid of Thomas Hillery. This action has never been heard, and was filed in the common pleas court. It is somewhat similar to the case just decided.

The emergency legislation for cleaning the streets, which could have been placed into effect three or four weeks ago, has been held up by Mayor Oester who refuses to permit the S. S. Director to proceed with the work as arranged by council.

Meanwhile the condition of the paved streets is becoming worse and worse, and a menace to public health as well as causing untold inconvenience and discomfort.

In Social Circles

Washington Temple No. 380, Pythian Sisters, celebrated its seventh anniversary Tuesday night at the handsome Castle of the Knights of Pythias.

The occasion was one of unusual interest and pleasure, with forty members present.

The regular meeting in charge of Most Excellent Chief, Mrs. John Wilson, occupied the first hour. A leading feature was the beautiful drill, with new figures introduced, perfectly put on by the members of the drill squad with two color bearers, under the captaincy of Mrs. Laura Eyre.

An elegant two course supper was served, the tables in effective arrangement to form a cross, with round table in the center. Flags and lilacs were artistically used in decoration, a huge jardiniere of lilacs forming central adornment.

The enjoyment of the evening reached its culmination around the pretty table.

The competent committee in charge included Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Armbrust, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Hyer, Mrs. Madge McCrea, Mrs. Lulu Ciesna, Mrs. M. C. Myers and Miss Emma Wilson.

Miss Fanny Greer was given a delightful surprise party, in honor of her twenty-first birthday, on Tuesday evening.

The affair was planned by Misses Nona Melvin and Irene Duckwell, who were assisted by the honor guests, mother, Mrs. Lee Greer, in serving a dainty lunch.

Music and games furnished diversion and good wishes were freely extended.

The guests were Misses Nona Melvin, Ressie and Iva West, Louise and Tracey Weyer, Edith Kimmy, Georgia Lugenbeel, Bessie Dowler, Minnie Wise, Georgia McMonigle, Irene Duckwell, Messrs. Deltren Bonecutter, Wm. Leeth, Roy West, Harlan Melvin, Harry Marlett, Roy Greer, Arthur Whitte, Wm. Swartz, John Weyer.

The Larkin's Secretary Association held a meeting of unusual interest at the home of Mrs. Chaney, on Peabody Avenue, Tuesday afternoon for the purpose of taking up Red Cross aid work.

Mrs. C. H. Griffin, a member of the Red Cross Society, in response to a request to present the Red Cross movement, made a most interesting explanatory talk.

The L. S. A. is planning to co-operate with Red Cross work in what ever line is found to be most needed.

Tuesday afternoon for an indefinite stay with her parents.

Mr. M. B. Shank is over from Dayton on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover Barger, little daughter, Adeline; Mrs. Lawson and Mrs. Frank Brakefield motored to Columbus to see "The Birth of a Nation" Tuesday.

Dr. and Mrs. R. M. Hughey and Dr. Lucy Pine were motoring guests in Springfield, Tuesday. Dr. Hughey and Dr. Pine attending the Medical Association meeting.

Dr. E. F. Todhunter attended the State Medical Association in Springfield, Tuesday.

Mr. A. T. O'Neill, who came here from London to succeed Mr. F. M. Kier as Assistant Superintendent of the Washington Water Works, is moving his family into the Worrell property on S. Fayette street, recently vacated by Mr. Walter Jones and family.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. West, Mr. and Mrs. Elton Marine and Miss Stella West attended funeral of Mr. Chas. Haynes at the M. E. church in Hillsboro, Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. John Parker of Milledgeville was the guest of friends in Dayton, Wednesday.

Miss Fern Fichtorn is over from Milledgeville spending a couple of days the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hosier.

Mr. H. E. Conwell, Bell Telephone Manager was a business visitor in Milledgeville, Wednesday.

Drs. May and Kaylor, of New Holland, were in attendance at the Ohio Medical Association meeting in Springfield, Tuesday.

Mrs. Margaret Colwell and Mrs. D. H. Burchett spent Wednesday in Columbus to see "The Birth of a Nation."

Dr. D. H. Rowe attended the State Medical Association meeting in Springfield Tuesday.

Miss Martha Teeters left Wednesday afternoon for Athens to be the guest of her sister, Miss Ruth Teeters, at the Ohio University. Miss Teeters is one of the 1917 graduates.

FAMILY OF TEN BADLY AFFLICTED

With the epidemic of measles now prevalent in some parts of Fayette county, probably the most seriously afflicted family is that of Sherman Coll, of Bookwalter, where the father, mother and eight children were ill with the measles at one time, and the affliction proved fatal to the mother, who passed away and was buried last week.

At the present time all but two of the family are out of danger and virtually recovered. The babe is convalescent of pneumonia which accompanied the disease, and one son, Herbert, is still in a critical condition, and his recovery is still in doubt. He was one of the first members of the family to take the disease.

Quarantine of this disease is very much neglected in the rural districts, and as a result persons who knowingly are afflicted with the disease are exceedingly careless as to whom they expose to the disease, and in this manner the spread is invariably rapid.

UP MT. WILSON BY J. M. YANKEE

Interesting Letter From Former Washington Resident Now Living in California.

It is with much pleasure that The Herald gives to its readers the following entertaining description of a trip to Mount Wilson, kindly contributed by a former resident of this city, Mr. James M. Yankee, now living in Los Angeles, Cal.

A TRIP TO MOUNT WILSON

We shall have to get up pretty early and bestir ourselves for breakfast, and get an early start, as it is quite a little jaunt, most all the way up hill and no fences, and something like the Jordan road. If you should fly a kite from the top of the observatory on Mount Wilson, which is six thousand one hundred feet above sea level, tying the tail to the observatory, and allow the kite to light on the City Hall here in Los Angeles two hundred and eighty-six feet above sea level, the kite's tail would be about fifteen miles long; but we can't go by way of the kite's tail, so we shall have to travel about twenty-three miles.

All ready, and we take the Sierra Madre electric line. We have each got to pony up a big iron dollar for a round trip fare, and in forty-five minutes we are at the end of the line, just north of Sierra Madre, near Little Santa Anita Canon, and at the foot of the Mount Wilson Trail.

We turn for a look over Sierra Madre, near at hand and the famous San Gabriel Valley, with its orange and lemon groves, alfalfa and truck farms spread out before and below us.

Now we stretch ourselves, and some carrying the lunch, some the coats and wraps, and others the kodaks we strike the trail, (not Billy Sunday's sawdust trail). In less than a mile we round the point, and know by various impressions that we have been climbing. The timid do not look down into the canon almost beneath one's feet, but all are willing to take a little rest, admire the view up and down and across the valley and over a dozen towns of varying pretensions, clear back to Los Angeles. The more demonstrative will be heard voicing their admiration as they look down upon the valley, with its alternating squares of orchard, meadow, and grain like a mammoth checker board.

But standing here like a knot on a log, neither fit for use nor ornament will not get us to the top, so we are trudging along. The Little Santa Anita Canon, is a mighty gash and deep and crooked, and much water tumbles down it during the winter season, so our trail is built away from it, and yet it is accommodating enough to decline into it by the time we want to eat lunch, and this is very kindly too, because it is so delightful to see and hear the clear cold water gurgling along, and have the shade of the trees, that border the stream and climb for some distance on either side while all the rest of the mountains towering all around is, are bare except for some stunted growths.

But now we make a steep and winding climb, and emerge on top of the saddle dividing Little Santa Anita Canon from the next canon north, and this puts new life and vigor into us, because we think we are almost to the hotel and observatory and top, which are in plain view, and are really only about three miles away, by the trail. They are not the only things in view. Off to the east a score of miles or so is "Old Baldy" with his great expanse of glittering snow, and all around are the flicks and peaks a vision with their mantles of

CANCER MORTALITY ON THE INCREASE THROUGHOUT U. S.

By Associated Press Dispatch. Springfield, O., May 16.—In 1922 the mortality from cancer in the United States will be more than 100,000 if the disease is not checked, according to statements made in papers read today at a joint session of the medical and surgical sections of the Ohio State Medical Association's convention here. Approximately 80,000 persons died of the disease in this country in 1916 and cancer is on the increase, it was stated.

Giving the physician an opportunity to make an early diagnosis in order that treatment can be given before the disease reaches the malignant stage was advanced as one of the most effective means of checking its development.

Speakers at today's session included Drs. Joseph H. Henshaw of Cincinnati, Roger S. Morris of Cincinnati, C. F. Hoover of Cleveland, G. E. McCullough of Troy, J. H. Jacobson of Toledo and J. F. Baldwin, Andre Crotti and C. F. Bowen of Columbus. Other points made by these medical men were:

Cancer is more common among women than men; the death rate among the former exceeding by 50 per cent the death rate among the latter. Cancer selects persons of mature years. About 83 per cent of the mortality in the United States occurs at the age of 45 or over. Prospects of eradication grow progressively less as the length of time permitted to elapse before treatment is instituted increases. Cancer is a disease of the well-to-do, being more prevalent among civilized peoples. It occurs more frequently among the overnourished than among the under-fed. Cancer is not infectious, contagious or hereditary. In surgical practice there is not a single case on record in which the operating surgeon or the attending nurse has contracted the disease from the patient.

FLUSHING CASE IS DECIDED IN FAVOR OF CITY

Court of Appeals Sustains Lower Court in Case of City Against Hillery—Another Injunction Suit Remains to Be Heard—No Prospect of Clean Streets.

In an oral decision handed down by Judge A. H. Kunkle, and concurred in by Judges Ferneding and Allread, in the Court of Appeals, the celebrated flushing case of The City of Washington against James Hillery, Safety Service Director et al., the judgment of the lower court was sustained and the temporary injunction against James Hillery made permanent.

The case was heard before the Appeals Court Tuesday afternoon, and

TRUTH IS STRONGER THAN FICTION

We might write any old stuff about our service, making false claims; but that would be fiction. It might get your bundle once, but only once. To get the truth just send your bundle to satisfy your curiosity, not because of anything we claim. That brings the truth.

LARRIMER

the decision handed down shortly thereafter.

The judgment of the Common Pleas Court, upheld by the Court of Appeals was that as Safety-Service Director, James Hillery had only one vote and could not vote twice as member of the Board of Control in awarding a contract for flushing and cleaning the streets of the city of Washington for a period of five years.

The city was represented by Solicitor Gregg, Nye Gregg, A. C. Patton, J. D. Post, C. A. Reid and F. A. Chafin, while the defendants were represented by John Logan and Joseph Hidy.

But the work of letting the contract and proceeding with the flushing of the streets is still tied up in definitely by another injunction case recently filed by the city against Hillery as result of a "pretended" letting of the contract by Mayor Oster and S. S. Director Hillery, at a reduction of $15000 from the original bid of Thomas Hillery. This action has never been heard, and was filed in the common pleas court. It is somewhat similar to the case just decided.

The emergency legislation for cleaning the streets, which could have been placed into effect three or four weeks ago, has been held up by Mayor Oster who refuses to permit the S. S. Director to proceed with the work as arranged by council.

Meanwhile the condition of the paved streets is becoming worse and worse, and a menace to public health as well as causing untold inconvenience and discomfort.

In Social Circles

Washington Temple No. 380, Pythian Sisters, celebrated its seventh anniversary Tuesday night at the handsome Castle of the Knights of Pythias.

The occasion was one of unusual interest and pleasure, with forty members present.

The regular meeting in charge of Most Excellent Chief, Mrs. John Wilson, occupied the first hour. A leading feature was the beautiful drill, with new figures introduced, perfectly put on by the members of the drill squad with two color bearers, under the captaincy of Mrs. Laura Eyre.

An elegant two course supper was served, the tables in effective arrangement to form a cross, with round table in the center. Flags and lilacs were artistically used in decoration, a huge jardiniere of lilacs forming central adornment.

The enjoyment of the evening reached its culmination around the pretty table.

The competent committee in charge included Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Armbrust, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Hyer, Mrs. Madge McCrea, Mrs. Lulu Ciesna, Mrs. M. C. Myers and Miss Emma Wilson.

Miss Fanny Greer was given a delightful surprise party, in honor of

FAMILY OF TEN BADLY AFFLICTED

With the epidemic of measles now prevalent in some parts of Fayette county, probably the most seriously afflicted family is that of Sherman Coit, of Bookwalter, where the father, mother and eight children were ill with the measles at one time, and the affliction proved fatal to the mother, who passed away and was buried last week.

At the present time all but two of the family are out of danger and virtually recovered. The babe is convalescent of pneumonia which accompanied the disease, and one son, Herbert, is still in a critical condition, and his recovery is still in doubt. He was one of the first members of the family to take the disease.

Quarantine of this disease is very much neglected in the rural districts, and as a result persons who knowingly are afflicted with the disease are exceedingly careless as to whom they expose to the disease, and in this manner the spread is invariably rapid.

UP MT. WILSON

BY J. M. YANKEE

Interesting Letter From Former Washington Resident Now Living in California.

It is with much pleasure that The Herald gives to its readers the following entertaining description of a trip to Mount Wilson, kindly contributed by a former resident of this city, Mr. James M. Yankee, now living in Los Angeles, Cal.

A TRIP TO MOUNT WILSON

We shall have to get up pretty early and bestir ourselves for breakfast, and get an early start, as it is quite a little jaunt, most all the way up hill and no fences, and something like the Jordan road. If you should fly a kite from the top of the observatory on Mount Wilson, which is six thousand one hundred feet above sea level, tying the tail to the observatory, and allow the kite to light on the City Hall here in Los Angeles two hundred and eighty-six feet above sea level, the kite's tail would be about fifteen miles long; but we can't go by way of the kite's tail, so we shall have to travel about twenty-three miles.

All ready, and we take the Sierra Madre electric line. We have each got to pony up a big iron dollar for a round trip fare, and in forty-five minutes we are at the end of the line, just north of Sierra Madre, near Little Santa Anita Canon, and at the foot of the Mount Wilson trail.

We turn for a look over Sierra Madre, near at hand and the famous San Gabriel Valley, with its orange and lemon groves, alfalfa and truck farms spread out before and below us.

Now we stretch ourselves, and some carrying the lunch, some the coats and wraps, and others the kodaks we strike the trail, (not Billy Sunday's sawdust trail). In less than a mile we round the point, and know by various impressions that we have been climbing. The timid do not look down into the canon almost beneath one's feet, but all are willing to take a little rest, admire the view up and down and across the valley and over a dozen towns of varying pretensions, clear back to Los Angeles. The more demonstrative will be heard voicing their admiration as they look down upon the valley, with its alternating squares of orchard, meadow, and grain like a mammoth checker board.

But standing here like a knot on a log, neither fit for use nor ornament will not get us to the top, so we are trudging along. The Little Santa Anita Canon, is a mighty gash and deep and crooked, and much water tumbles down it during the winter season, so our trail is built away from it, and yet it is accommodating enough to decline into it by the time we want to eat lunch, and this is very kindly too, because it is so delightful to see and hear the clear cold water gurgling along, and have the shade of the trees, that border the stream and climb for some distance on either side while all the rest of the mountains towering all around is, are bare except for some stunted growths.

But now we make a steep and winding climb, and emerge on top of the saddle dividing Little Santa Anita Canon from the next canon north, and this puts new life and vigor into us, because we think we are almost to the hotel and observatory and top, which are in plain view, and are really only about three miles away, by the trail. They are not the only things in view. Off to the east a score of miles or so is "Old Baldy" with his great expanse of glittering snow, and all around are the flocks and peaks a vision with their mantles of

Mission to Russia Includes Men Famous in Many Fields

The following men, distinguished in various ways make up the war mission to go to Russia to strengthen the new government in its resolve to stand by Russia's allies in the war.

Elihu Root of New York, chairman, statesman.

Charles R. Crane of Illinois, Chicago, manufacturer and business man. (He is now in Russia.)

John R. Mott of New York, general secretary international committee of Y. M. C. A.

Cyrus McCormick, president of the International Harvester company.

Samuel R. Bertrou, banker of New York.

James Duncanson, vice president American Federation of Labor.

Charles Edward Russell of New York, author and socialist.

Major General Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff United States army; ranking officer of the army.

Rear Admiral James H. Glennon, United States navy.

snow, and we stand and gaze at the colossality, the grandeur, the great chasm of the canons, the immense pine trees, the dark green smaller trees, spellbound and enchanted by the beauty of it all; and though we feel the effects of the climb, we trudge gaily on, newly inspired and encouraged; and now we are at the top, and hotel and sitting around the blazing crackling log fire in the huge fireplace, we stretch our legs and rest.

In due time we take our appetites to the dining room, and do full justice to the evening meal. After while the landlord says we ought to go out to the Point to see the twinkling lights of the forty-two towns, that may be seen from there. Lanterns are soon provided by taking empty tomato cans, with only one end, holding in a horizontal position, and melting the candle a little and holding it a moment to let it harden, you are all right provided you keep the closed end of your can toward the light, and you must have a short candle, any way that's how they do it.

Ten or a dozen will brave the cold wind, the darkness, and the chance of rain, and the sight well repays them, especially if it happens to be raining down in the valley, for if it is raining hard it will be as though a shimmering gauzy fabric was drawn across your line of vision at frequent intervals, dimming and half hiding the lights.

Soon all are ready to hunt their beds, in the numerous cottages scattered here and there, among the trees, each with its little airtight stove, and coal oil lamp.

Now everyone has had a good night sleep, and a good breakfast and after a tramp among the big trees, and in and about the observatory, and a trip to the point again to look over the checkerboard valley, or perchance here and there a yellow spot where the sun finds a crevice between the rolling, writhing, tumbling masses of fog, perhaps a half mile below you, and a half mile above the valley, and you gaze on the odd and beautiful scene, and declare it alone is worth the labor of the climb.

The return trip is now begun and it seems like a picnic sure enough, compared with the trip up, and in a few hours you are on the electric cars and directly back to Los Angeles, safe and sound, and glad you made the trip.

CANCER MORTALITY ON THE INCREASE THROUGHOUT U. S.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Springfield, O., May 16.—In 1922 the mortality from cancer in the United States will be more than 100,000 if the disease is not checked, according to statements made in papers read today at a joint session of the medical and surgical sections of the Ohio State Medical Association's convention here. Approximately 80,000 persons died of the disease in this country in 1916 and cancer is on the increase, it was stated.

Giving the physician an opportunity to make an early diagnosis in order that treatment can be given before the disease reaches the malignant stage was advanced as one of the most effective means of checking its development.

Speakers at today's session included Drs. Joseph Ransohoff of Cincinnati, Roger S. Morris of Cincinnati, C. F. Hoover of Cleveland, G. E. McCullough of Troy, J. H. Jacobson of Toledo and J. F. Baldwin, Andre Crotti and C. F. Bowen of Columbus. Other points made by these medical men were:

Cancer is more common among women than men; the death rate among the former exceeding by 50 per cent the death rate among the latter. Cancer selects persons of mature years. About 83 per cent of the mortality in the United States occurs at the age of 45 or over. Prospects of eradication grow progressively less as the length of time permitted to elapse before treatment is instituted increases. Cancer is a disease of the well-to-do, being more prevalent among civilized peoples. It occurs more frequently among the over-nourished than among the underfed. Cancer is not infectious, contagious or hereditary. In surgical practice there is not a single case on record in which the operating surgeon or the attending nurse has contracted the disease from the patient.

HOME GARDEN SUGGESTIONS
"Let me suggest that everyone who creates or cultivates a garden helps, and helps greatly, to solve the problem of the feeding of the nations."
—President Wilson.
CELERY.
Formerly good celery could be grown only by expert market gardeners, and it was a luxury enjoyed by common folks only on such special occasions as Thanksgiving and Christmas. Now, thanks to the development of a scientific process known as the "new celery culture" the succulent plant can be grown satisfactorily in any small garden with good soil, says the bulletin from the National Emergency Food Garden Commission, which is co-operating with this paper to encourage the planting of food gardens this year.

WOOD GIVEN HIGHEST POST
(By American Press)
COLUMBUS, May 16.—Adjutant General George H. Wood was appointed by Governor Cox commander of the recently authorized division of Ohio national guard. His new rank is major general, the highest post in the state service and equivalent to the most elevated rank in the active service of the United States army. Wood will continue as adjutant general of Ohio for the present.
When the Ohio national guard is taken into the war army Wood will rank, except in seniority, with such distinguished active service officers as Major General Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff; Major General Leonard Wood, Major General J. J. Pershing, who commanded the Mexican Interior expedition, and the late Major General Frederick Funston, in command of all troops sent to the border last summer, and Major General George W. Goethals, builder of the Panama canal.
The governor promoted Colonel Charles X. Zimmerman, Cleveland, Fifth regiment, Ohio national guard, to the rank of brigadier general. He is to command the militia's new Third brigade, made up of the First, Seventh and new Tenth regiments.
Wood, whose home is in Dayton, comes from fighting stock. His father, who before his death attained the rank of brigadier general in the United States army, was on Zachary Taylor's staff in the Mexican war and served through the civil war. Governor Cox said the appointment was based on the executive and administrative ability Wood has shown as adjutant general, and on his management of the flood situation in 1913 at Dayton.

NO INTERFERENCE
(By American Press)
Washington, May 16.—To meet sinister misrepresentation of the purpose of President Wilson in dispatching the mission headed by Elihu Root to Russia, it was authoritatively stated that the mission contemplates no interference in the internal affairs of the new-born republic nor effort to sway the judgment of the Russian people as to which faction shall control. There are just two objects to be served, to convey to the Russian people the high sense of gratification with which the government and people of the United States have witnessed the sudden transformation of an ancient despotism into a republic, and, like the commissions from London and Paris and the one soon to come from Petrograd, to render any helpful service possible. The American government will offer to co-operate in every line of endeavor in the reconstruction of Russia. Two months must elapse before the commissioners can reach Petrograd. In that time it is hoped that the work of establishing a permanent government will be well under way.

Growing of celery on a commercial scale is an expensive process, requiring transplanting and later the blanching of the stalks by shading either with boards set on edge on both sides of the rows or by heaping earth around the plants so that only the leafy tops show.
The new celery culture consists of planting celery so closely together that the tops themselves form a mass of shade through which no sunlight can penetrate. The perfection of new varieties of self-blanching celery aid the home gardener to produce an abundance of white stalks on a small area of ground.
Such cultivation is adapted to gardens which can be irrigated from a city water supply. Celery consumes enormous quantities of both water and plant food, so that heavy fertilization is also necessary in the new celery culture. Several wheelbarrow loads of well rotted manure should be worked into the soil of a celery bed 16 feet square.
Plant the seeds in special beds now thickly. As soon as you can handle the seedlings spread them out by transplanting so that they are two inches apart each way. At the beginning of summer these plants will be ready for permanent transplanting to a bed which has already grown an early crop of some vegetables. Set the plants 6 inches apart in rows only 8 inches apart.

STENOGRAPHS WANTED BY GOVERNMENT
Stenographers who pass the examination to be conducted by the State Civil Service Commission on May 31, may be certified to the United States Civil Service Commission for employment with the United States Government. The government has requested the Ohio Commission to certify its eligible list of stenographers who are willing to accept government positions.
In order to save traveling expenses of applicants in this examination it will be conducted in Cleveland, Cincinnati, Toledo, Dayton and Columbus and the candidates may appear in the city nearest their home. Complete particulars of this and other examinations to be conducted during the next thirty days are given in the official bulletin of the State Civil Service Commission which is sent free to any who may desire the same.

Does Friend Wife make you mow the lawn?
If so, cheer up. There's help coming and lots of it, for "Queen" most versatile of Gentry Brother's Shows' herd of performing elephants, arrives in Washington Court House on Tuesday, May 22nd.
Now, the best thing "Queen" does is mowing lawns and she is no amateur. In Fremont, Ohio, this season, this gifted pachyderm got loose from her mooring in the Gentry menagerie tent one night and wandered into a neighbor's yard. There, she reached under a porch and pulled out husband's lawn mower. "Queen" pushed, pushed, mind you—the machine up and down the front yard and cut grass with a nicety for sweeping curves most commendable. However, the elephant encountered three small saplings during her labors and these she pulled up, roots and all. Of course, the circus had to settle for the damages, deducting fifty cents, however, for the neat job of grass cutting done by the "bull," which is white top argot for elephant.

MOTHER SUPERIOR
Says Vinol Creates Strength.
Rosary Hill Home, Hawthorne, N. Y.—"I have used Vinol for many run down, weak or emaciated patients with benefit. One young woman was so weak and ill she could hardly creep to my door for aid. I supplied Vinol to her liberally and in a month I hardly recognized her. She was strong, her color charming and her cheeks rounded out."—Mother M. Alphonsa, Lanthrop, O. S. D.
We guarantee Vinol to sharpen the appetite, aid digestion, enrich the blood and create strength.

HOG THIEVES ARE SENT TO WORKS
James A. Rhodes and James M. Rhodes, held for stealing and butchering hogs in the Frankfort and Austin neighborhoods, confessed to their crimes, Tuesday morning, and were each fined $50 and the costs and given 30 days in the workhouse.
The pair were escorted to Xenia on the Tuesday afternoon train. It is believed the two men have been conducting their work along a large scale throughout Ross and adjoining counties.

Don't Cough Until Weak
Foley's Honey and Tar
FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR takes right hold of an obstinate cough and gives quick relief.
It puts a healing coating on the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages. It stops the tickling, loosens and raises phlegm easily. It is just splendid for bronchial and la grippe coughs, and tight, wheezy breathing.
Mrs. W. S. Bailey, Lancaster, Ky., coughed almost continuously day and night, until she took Foley's Honey and Tar. After taking half a bottle, her cough began to slow up, and seven bottles entirely cured her cough.

Maxwell Owners Wrote This Advertisement
200,000 enthusiastic Maxwell owners in the world. The extracts from letters printed below are typical of what they all say:
Repair Expense 5c
Eight thousand miles—22 1/2 miles to the gallon—one set of tires. Repair expense, 5c. I am satisfied.—J. L. Falls, 6208 University Ave., Chicago, Ill.
All Kinds of Power
My car has all kinds of power. We have up to 45 per cent. grades around here and it is seldom I have even to shift gears. I have had no trouble and no expense other than for gas and oil.—A. B. Christianson, Hendricks, Minn.
11,780 Mountain Miles
My Maxwell has gone 11,780 miles wherever the track of any car has been around these mountains. I got 9,000 miles on my tires and about 22 miles to the gallon. No trouble or repairs whatever.—F. C. Headley, Colorado Springs, Colo.
Climbs Any Hill
I run about 22 miles to the gallon. My car never fails to start, has never been in a garage for repairs, and has never failed to climb any hill. I can't say too much for the Maxwell.—M. W. Lacey, Hurley, New Mexico.
16,200 Miles—No Repairs
Have driven my Maxwell car 16,200 miles—average 26 1/2 miles to the gallon. Have not had any repair expense. My car is the best on the market at the price.—Oscar L. Yoder, Chickasha, Okla.
Will Go Where Other Cars Can't
I like the Maxwell because it is roomy and comfortable, easily operated, almost trouble-proof, and because it will go anywhere any car can and some places where others can't.—L. E. Mead, Marshall, Minn.
Economical to Run
My Maxwell is very economical to run. I have gone more than 13,000 miles—average 23 7/12 miles per gallon of gasoline.—George L. Cleaver, Iambie, Ore.
Wonderful Endurance
My Maxwell has wonderful endurance. It can stand any kind of abuse. Besides, it gets better than 20 miles per gallon. My United States tires have given 6,000 miles so far and are good for many more.—George Umberger, La Crescent, Minn.
30 Miles Per Gallon of Gasoline
I have tried a good many light cars and know that the Maxwell is the best all-around car in its class. I have driven it 5,500 miles and got 30 miles to the gallon. No repair expense whatever.—L. A. Sweetman, Providence, Rhode Island.
Plenty of Speed
My Maxwell is a wonderful hill climber, has plenty of speed, is easy to operate and is very substantially built. I have driven it 4,500 miles.—John C. Freeborn, Bloomington, Kansas.
Amazing Power
Averages 27 1/2 miles per gallon, has driven 4,000 miles, and says, "If I were getting a car tomorrow it would be a Maxwell. It has amazing power."—F. B. Gerhard, Coral, Penna.
Perfect Shape After 23,700 Miles
23,700 miles, average 20 miles per gallon. My car has never failed me, no matter where I want to go. If I were buying another car it would surely be a Maxwell.—F. N. Haroun, Portland, Oregon.
Monthly Running Cost, $3
Has driven a Maxwell for 2 years, and says, "My total expenses for tires, gasoline, oil, new parts and everything else is $75, an average monthly expense of about $3."—G. W. Baker, Caribage, Missouri.
No Equal for Service
We have driven our Maxwell 6,804 miles on about 21 miles per gallon of gasoline. One of 1,916 miles, five passengers, tent, bedding and provisions; crossed the Bluffett Pass, Suquamish Pass, Mt. Rainier Park, Sunset Mountains and Blue Mountains. We believe that the Maxwell has no equal at anything near its price.—J. M. Burley, La Grande, Oregon.
4,500 Miles on $58.20
In seven months, I have driven 4,500 miles, getting 22 miles to the gallon, total expense $58.20 including gas, oil, tires, etc.—average monthly operating cost $8.31. My driving is over mountains or desert. In my opinion a Maxwell could be driven 8,000 miles without a single item of expense, except gasoline and oil. I give fair attention and operated on fairly good roads.—Fred Williams, El Centro, California.
Drove Up Pike's Peak
My car has run 10,572 miles through mountainous country and I average 19 miles to the gallon. I drove up Pike's Peak Highway, over all the scenic drives of Southern Colorado, through Arizona and New Mexico. Never had any engine trouble whatever.—Alfred J. Black, Avondale, Colorado.
